

THE ROANOKE TIMES.

(DAILY AND WEEKLY)
An Independent Democratic paper devoted to the material and political interests of Roanoke and Southwest Virginia.

DO YOU ADVERTISE?
"To discountenance an advertisement," says John Wamaker, "is like taking down your sign. If you want to do business you must let the public know it. I would as soon think of doing business without clerks as without advertising."

PLANK SIDEWALKS.

The making of wooden pavements is not true economy and the City Council would do well to read and digest this fact.

Roanoke has too many wooden pavements and more than half the time they are in a very dangerous condition. Planks become loose, the weather rots the wood and there you have a dangerous trap.

Then again, we say this on the authority of a man who knows, the cost of keeping the pavements in repair for a year is more than the original cost to the city and this should be taken into consideration.

The question of pavements is one that has puzzled people from the time that pavements were first thought of. Brick is perhaps about the best for a couple of years wear, but then they begin to break and their usefulness is past. Concrete is good but too expensive. Asphalt is still better but these costs money. Perhaps some one of the various compositions would fit the bill better than anything else, and when the city fathers feel themselves that they would do well to look into the merits of these various materials, because brick is so generally used is no reason why it is best.

And then, too, bricks cost lots of money in Roanoke.

ROOM FOR ALL.

Years ago when the noses of people of the United States were d there was just 50,000,000 of be that time the increase in population has been something wonderful. Now reaches a total of very near 100,000. This is not so large an increase as in the ten preceding years, but still it is very large and no other nation on the globe can show the like of it.

The census shows clearly that the increase is not due in any great degree to natural causes. Immigration has never been so great, and like a sponge the New World has drawn from the old many of its sturdy sons and daughters.

We should not be opposed to this immigration. We have plenty of room, plenty to eat and a home for all who are honestly seeking it. Southwest Virginia alone can sustain a nation, and it will require many a day's hard work to wrest from the bowels of the mountains the wealth that lies hidden.

ABOUT SWIMMING BATHS.

The suggestion made some time ago by the TIMES that public swimming baths be established on the river front was received with favor, but as yet no one has stepped forward with a donation.

The council can hardly be asked to pay the cause, for there is no money to their disposal worth considering, and it is needed for other purposes. But if some one in Roanoke wants to be remembered and loved by the little folks through the coming years they could accomplish this more better than by giving a hundred or two dollars towards building a bath.

There is no greater pleasure in life than to bathe in a good swim. Even cannot go to the seashore, with its sandy beaches, long line of surf and fresh salt breeze blowing in upon you. But every one can walk out upon the Roanoke and take a plunge in the water that comes dashing down from the clear mountain streams. That is they can if the baths are established.

A TRUE PULSE.

Nothing better than a recent report of the Post Office Department shows the great increase of population in this State.

Within the past fiscal year 200 new post offices were established, and only thirty-seven discontinued, making a net gain of 163.

This increase is remarkable, and the blue-covered report is a true pulse of Virginia's wonderful progress. Most of these new offices have been established in the Southwest, and are the direct outcome of the wonderful development of the coal and iron industries.
